

County Supports Flood Research Drilling Program

Aiding plans for an experimental program to develop means of solving the problem of intrusion of salt water into fresh water wells along the Southern California coastline, five additional wells will be built as part of the County Flood Control District's project.

Prime purpose of the additional wells is to compile design criteria which can be used when the program is expanded along the west coast from Ballona Creek to the Palos Verdes Hills, Torrance, Long Beach areas.

The first five wells will be built in Manhattan Beach and Hermosa Beach, Supervisor Burton W. Chace announced today.

Plans and specifications for the one recharge well and four observation wells have been approved by the board of supervisors of the county. Bids will be opened Aug. 19 in the Flood Control District offices.

ROPE BRIDGE—Anthony Peppertone, Torrance Cub Scout of Pack 996, who resides at 4812 Jacques St., tackles the rope bridge, construction of the Boy Scouts designed to aid in crossing rivers. The skills were practiced at the Scout Jubilee at Lunada Bay School July 23, where from 2000 to 3000 scouts attended.

The evening's festivities will commence with a showing by six leading fashion shops of Redondo Beach.

Preliminary judging will take place from 7 to 8:30 p.m., and the final selection and coronation of "Miss Los Angeles County" will be televised on KTLA, Channel 5, from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. Stan Chambers, well known personality of KTLA, will act as Master of Ceremonies.

Judging are Caroline Leonetti of the Leonetti Agency, Ltd; newscaster James McNamara of radio station KLAC; William Tuttle, head of the make-up department of MGM; and Gary Watson of the Watson Brothers Photographers.
